WHAT IS CORTEN STEEL? CHANGES WITH YOU

Corten steel, also known as weathering steel, is a high-strength steel alloy designed to form a stable, protective rust-like surface layer when exposed to the weather. Unlike ordinary steel, which can corrode and weaken, Corten steel's rust acts as a shield that prevents deeper damage over time.

ALL YOU NEED TO KNOW CORTEN STEEL

We engineer, rust to accelerate the natural weathering process, creating a protective layer that shields the steel from the elements and the Harsh Aussie Sun—so you get the most out of your product.
